

Crossing Landscapes.
When People, Practices or Problems are relocated.

EAEH 2005
24th May, 2005,
Room 1 in the Michael Young Building
The Open University, Milton Keynes.
REVISED PROGRAMME.

10-15 David Demeritt, King's College London,
“Regulating the Waters: Law and the Production of Forest Nature in Northern New England.”

10-50 Raymond Smith,
“Irrigation in mid twentieth century Britain.”

11-25 Break.

11-50 Nick Goddard, Anglia Polytechnic University,
‘An “irrigatingly” sewaged town: towards an environmental history of suburbanisation.’

12-25 Lunch.

2-00 Peter Brimblecombe, University of East Anglia,
“The location of large power stations in the 1920’s and 1930s.”

2-35 Fred Milton, University of Newcastle,
“Tiny Humanitarians? The Role of the Dicky Bird Society in Bird Conservation.”

3-45 Close and Refreshment.